Robert J. Boragno, CPA, CGMA
Audit Director

San Francisco and San Mateo Offices
415.397.4444 (SF) | 650.579.7200 (SM)
rboragno@sldcpa.com

Rob has nearly forty years of experience from national and regional accounting firms and a national real estate syndication company. Rob brings to SLD extensive experience in accounting, attestation, assurance, operational management and litigation support services. The client industries he serves include retail, real estate, agriculture, nonprofit, high-tech, distribution and wholesale, and hospitality.

He is considered an expert in financial accounting and reporting matters, study and design of internal control environments, and investigative services for causation of damages and damage studies.

In private industry, he held the position of vice president of finance for publicly-traded real estate investment trusts and real estate limited partnerships. His responsibilities focused on operational oversight, financial management, SEC reporting, and property acquisitions and dispositions.

Rob is a Chartered Global Management Accountant, Certified Public Accountant, and a member of the AICPA and the California Society of CPAs. Rob is an associate member of the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners and a past member of the California Society of CPAs' Committees on banking, real estate and securities industries. He holds a Bachelor of Science in Commerce degree in Accounting from Santa Clara University.

Rob's hobbies include fishing, golf, skiing and Italian cooking.

Specializations:

Litigation

Industry Expertise:

Real Estate

Nonprofit Organizations

Hospitality

Distribution & Wholesale

SLD