Austin Brewin has over twenty years of experience implementing accounting systems and processes to help manage businesses. As an Accounting Manager on the SLD COR<sup>2</sup>E ACCOUNTING SOLUTIONS team, Austin works with clients to help manage all their accounting needs and help them grow.

As a Controller in industries ranging from screen printed t-shirts to neuroscience-based marketing, Austin has helped navigate companies through many ups and downs. He supported the sale of NeuroFocus to The Nielsen Company, and integrated new systems and processes post-acquisition. He also executed several rounds of equity and debt financing for an internet by satellite technology firm.

Austin has an MBA from the University of California, Davis with an emphasis in Finance and Accounting. He earned his Bachelor's degree in Anthropology from the University of California, Berkeley.

Austin spends as much time as he can with his two kids and likes to get out for long bike rides. In his spare time, Austin volunteers on the board of a local independent school and ushers for local theater.
